THEO PROCIW

"I love coming to work every day with our community of clients. They impress me with their struggles and efforts to grow and with their courage."

MICHELLE DIXON

"The most valuable aspect of our program is the level of mutual trust and the relationships that evolve through daily interactions."

RHIANNON THOMAS

"Our program is about working with people from where they want to work—creating realistic goals together that reflect what our program participants want and need, not what the system wants people to achieve."

And here would be this Theo, Michelle, and Shannon, along with their noble words of wisdom.
